"The degree of relaxation you experience floating is exceptional"

VertiFloat, a creation for the ultimate floatation experience

HydroCo, a world leader in hydrotherapy equipment introduces a revolutionary approach to the floatation experience – VertiFloat.

A free-standing aquatic center that's leading the way for the ultimate relaxation experience in wellbeing facilities and modern high-end home design.

VertiFloat resolves the challenge many wellbeing professionals encounter on premises such as the lack of space, the inconvenience of installation or limited access to larger volumes of water such as pools or spas. VertiFloat provides a real solution for smaller spaces with an innovation that promotes a healthier and fitter lifestyle for every user.

Its functional design is modular and compact with a variety of installation solutions. VertiFloat may be assembled within a day, and ready to use the next. For wellbeing professionals, the time between sessions is minimal lending it to quick turnaround between clients, therefore a maximum return on investment.

A floatation & compression treatment that's unparalleled

The full-body Aqualiner with floatation cushion is your cocoon in this advanced compression therapy that is one of a kind.

VertiFloat is designed to maximize your relaxation potential by means of water compression and zero-impact floatation. By stepping into the fully sealed, contaminant-free Aqualiner, you can pamper yourself with an array of treatments that enhance that luxury spa sensation. Cover your body with muds, seaweeds, moisturizers or medicinal fusions - add liquids such as sea or spring water. VertiFloat is simply the most flexible and hygienic float tank available.

Aqualiner allows you to 'dry' float

The Aqualiner also enables the unique experience of dry floatation. That's right, you may be fully or partly clothed! The Aqualiner completely protects you from getting wet - how convenient!

Now for the compression

As VertiFloat fills with water, your body becomes encapsulated in your cocoon creating an incredible compression effect on your body. This compression helps to stabilize your muscles, decreasing the amount of muscular vibration, resulting in decreased fatigue - and complete relaxation.

"It will be one of the most unique experiences you'll ever have!"

"It is so easy to operate. You can control time, water level, temperature . very versatile."

Easy operation & multiple applications

Filling VertiFloat

Within minutes the VertiFloat booth is filled to the required level with temperature controlled water ranging to 100.4° F (38° C). This water is drawn from the storage tank provided and once transferred to the booth, the water level is fully adjustable during the entire operation.

The water level rises until you float ... then you feel an incredible combination of thermal transfer and heavy compression against your body. The water temperature enhances the infusion of your body products, opening considerable opportunities for the development of skin treatments for pampering, as well as medicinal purposes.

Within minutes you are buoyant, floating vertically with the water acting as a cushion for your body's weight-bearing joints – reducing stress on muscles, tendons and ligaments. A truly innovative low-impact therapeutic experience.

Easy to empty

Following the floatation session, at the touch of a button, VertiFloat is emptied and the uncontaminated water is transferred back into the storage tank ready for the next session.

The advantage

Waterwise Innovation

VertiFloat is a responsible approach to aquatic treatments using around 5 gallons (20 litres) of water consumption per session. That's amazing.

VertiFloat heats, monitors and filters 265 gallons (1,000 litres) of working-water stored in an insulated tank. The working-water is sanitized and hygienically maintained. This water is transferred from the tank to the VertiFloat booth and back again after use. VertiFloat's recycled and enclosed water-storage system ensures minimum water usage including evaporation.

Completely Hygienic

For optimum hygienic conditions, VertiFloat's water is maintained in the same way as the water contained within a swimming pool or spa – in accordance with the local governing health regulations. The water is automatically circulated and filtered during storage and during each and every use.

*"The Aqualiner is like a cocoon
- it's feels like a great big hug."*

"VertiFloat provides another wellbeing opportunity to our gym members, they love it."

Experience results

Medical, Sports, Wellness

VertiFloat is a versatile aquatic system that enables the development of a vast range of opportunities for treatments and activities. VertiFloat can be installed in a commercial or residential building in an area of 10 x 10 ft (3.0 x 3.0m).

Due to its compact modular design, VertiFloat can be dis-assembled and re-located at any time.

Why wellbeing professionals love hydro

The unique properties of water and hydrostatic pressure enable your heart to work more efficiently and helps it circulate blood. This can account for lower blood-pressure and heart rates, during deep-water compression. Consequently, your heart rate is an estimated 10-15 beats lower per minute during suspended float experiences.

VertiFloat is a brilliant system that's creating more opportunities for physiotherapists, personal trainers, dietitians, fitness coaches and athletes and the general public.
